PARENTING CORNER

Teaching Your Child Good Sportsmanship

Parents and kids alike love sports, and it's easy to get caught up in a game and become focused on winning. Yet there is much more to be gained from the sports experience than a winning record. When children and teens are involved in sports, they are able to learn and put into practice values that will stay with them for the rest of their lives.

Good sportsmanship is what children can learn from sports. You can help your children understand and value good sportsmanship while making sure they have a safe and fun sports experience. This may seem hard to define, but its hallmarks include being able to win without gloating, respecting one's opponents, and being able to lose gracefully. Here are some important principles to instill in your children:

IF YOU LOSE, DON'T MAKE UP EXCUSES.

IF YOU WIN, DON'T RUB IT IN.

LEARN FROM MISTAKES AND GET BACK IN THE GAME.

ALWAYS DO YOUR BEST.

IF SOMEONE ELSE MAKES A MISTAKE, REMAIN ENCOURAGING AND AVOID CRITICIZING.

SHOW RESPECT FOR YOURSELF, YOUR TEAM, AND THE OFFICIALS OF THE GAME.

Parents are important role models, so let your children see you upholding these principles, whether you play a sport yourself or root for your child's team from the sidelines.

Help your child understand that good sportsmanship includes both small gestures and heroic efforts. It starts with something as simple as shaking hands with opponents before a game and includes acknowledging good plays made by others and accepting bad calls gracefully. Displaying good sportsmanship isn't always easy; it can be tough to congratulate the opposing team after losing a close or important game. But the kids who learn how to do it will benefit in many ways.
